AKNO-LEG-MENTS

We, the editing staff, would like to thank the editing staff and all others concerned with this load of old cods-wallop (especially the editing staff).

Also we would like to thank the teachers and pupils for being so readily ridiculed by us, the writers. Lastly and by all means leastly we would like to thank Mr. Calton and Mr. Gray without whose black Tempo, this would have been a raving success.

P.E.

So folks, the sun sets on LEGS magazine. Next year it may be Groper... or Rammer.. or something like that. Because of the nature of this event the LEGS Office was set up in a black place, the bier cellar. The atmosphere was damp and cold, opposite, we hope, to this heart warming edition of LEGS.

R.J.

This year we may not have mentioned some names. I intend to rectify this. Miss Poole, the less said, the better. The one with the beard. Mr. Shaw - yes i'm quite certain. Mrs. Lee what does she teach? Mrs. Whitehead, German I think? The tall, slim lady teacher, does anyone recall her name? Now a quick mention of the students who have had the pleasure of teaching us. The poor games student, who doesn't know the rules; the shy one with a beard; the chubby one teaching Henglish and the slim blonde one that I am crazy about. They certainly have livened things down a bit. I said I was going to mention names but i'm afraid I don't know most of them. However, the slim blonde language student is welcome to teach me anytime.

A.H.

I would finally like to add to this dreary, uninteresting page a big 'thank you' on behalf of all four of us. Thanks go to Mr. Calton, Mr. Plampin and most of all to Mrs. Randall but not forgetting Mrs. Frayne, Miss Adams and all other contributors to the magazine. Thanks also to the certain member of staff whose article you will find on these pages but whose name has had to be obliterated as he wishes to remain anonymous.

THANK YOU.

M.W.

LIFE IN KEN'S KINGDOM

Just to show that in the Geography department in the dim recesses of the bottom corridor, can be all fun.

A Geography master from Surrey,
Was lecturing one day without worry,
Whilst in Hurst Castle Bay,
A wave came his way,
And made him depart in a hurry!

THE SIXTH FORM FIELD COURSE 1971

Last year, the sixth form geographers found themselves at Swanage in Dorset. This was surprising as it was where we had intended going (and as everyone knows, geographers can't read maps). Perhaps it was due to the superspeed bus, or was it Bill, 'the flying bus driver'. Anyhow after landing at the hotel, we settled in. Some people had problems, we had Palmer (and his squeaky bed springs).

The food kept us alive, though our daily lunch of cake butties seemed to be more appreciated by the birds than by us. Early mornings were generally quiet until Dynamic Jim (Mr. Jordison to you), decided to give half a dozen people a run along the sea shore at 7.00 a.m. (only 4 or 5 hours after some of us had gone to bed)

We were allowed out on our own in the evenings (no questions asked), and though the hotel itself was always deserted in fact a very detailed survey was being carried out of the local Ale Houses. Many different drinks and combinations were sampled (ask Keith about Jes Scothern's cider laced with rum), and at least one person was accused of drinking disinfectant by the hotels Au-Pair girls!

Though we had to be in the hotel by 10.30 p.m., this did not deter activities continuing till way past midnight. We eventually left the hotel to the chorus of 'Happy birthday dear Kenny' after a wonderful week.

N.B. We also did a little geographical field work in our spare time, and we are

And nowWHO IS BRIDLE ANYWAY ? (A two act tragedy)

Starring the sixth form prefects and the late book.

ACT 1

Scene: 8.50 a.m. on a Monday/Tuesday/Wednesday/Thursday/Friday morning.

Clare 'Hot Legs' Hibbert dashes from the building clutching her little blue book, to pounce on the unsuspecting prey. Loitering with definite intent she asks "Name, cell number and reason ?" - "Would you like the questions in that order ?"

Five thousand nine hundred and forty two victims later (and four pencils), Clare re-enters the prison walls to join her partners in crime in the sixth form area. "Wot!" they exclaim "Bridle has only been late nine times this morning ?" - "You've been letting him through again haven't you ?"

Remembering rule 942, Clare shows obvious wicked delight in having booked the entire sixth form that morning and waits eagerly for Dave Frugtniet to arrive to complete the list. At that moment in time, Sam 'Badminton' Phillips leaps up the stairs - Clare's chief partner in crime. Horror upon horror he only managed to book six teachers !! (Mr. Webb crawled by unnoticed on his hands and knees whilst Mr. Adkin flew through undetected in his super-fast white tornado).

ACT 11

Scene: 1.50 p.m. in the afternoon.

Our revolutionist, Clare, hits upon a wonderful idea. Each time Bridle arrives she stands him in a line. At 2 p.m. Bridle is marched off in a line to the new hall. Uncle Al and the HM, inspect the row of Bridle and select the most likely victim using such devious methods as size of nose, number of Polo mints, copies of Fanny Hill etc.

Melodrama takes its course and the real Bridle does a magnificent 20 minute death in the new hall. The late book will never be the same again. :

AMEN.

- (Two records tied for 10th place 'cos you can't have a Top Eleven).

GENUINE QUOTABLE QUOTES

Jennifer Bates - "Most people don't go all the way on the Nottingham bus".

A TRIBUTE TO OUR GALLANT PREFECTS

At the head of them all we have the noble A.Hardacre - a solid piece of land - and Pauline Ormsby - who always lifts us out of her depression.

Assisting these in their arduous task are that terrible twosome, A.Lord - revelling in celestial authority - and C.Bagguley - the VIth form's gift to women. Also the dynamic duo of Jo Perry - no relation to Fred - and Janet Exley - the biggest girl in the sixth form.

And so on to the roll of 'on er.

Dave Barnard - footballer of the year.

Robert Bulman - the Vth form pin up.

Peter Clarke - works wonders, but doesn't get any.

Richard Compton - who are Derby county anyway?

Peter Davis - Nottingham Forest skinhead.

Jan Dowgun - as angel-ic as hell.

Brian 'Digger' Downing - a very Mary fellow.
Colin Gavagan - keeps us all poster-ed on current affairs.
Peter Haddon - likes to play with creepy,crawleys.
Mick Heginbotham - a proper basket.....ball player.
Roger Jones - keeps us all on the right tracks.
Kevin 'Bone Marriott - does not 'bowver' about anything.
Vaughn Morris - a car-d sharp.
Stephen Orton - seen but never hair-d.
Steve (sam)'kipper' Phillips - his purpose is quite Clare.
Steve Saunderson - advertising manager for 'Brillo'.
Tony Smith - not the Marion kind.
Lesley Buckby - founder member of the VIth form knitting circle.
Penny Cooper - look after her and the pounds will look after themselves.
Lindsay Crocby - very fond of playing Bing-o
Gayla Davies - always goes to work on an egg.
Roz Denny - a VERY sporting type.
Janet Greenhalgh - the VIth form's most militant member.
Sue Hatfield - always (hockey) sticks up for herself.
Clare Hibbert - believes in 'Uncle Sam's' supreme right.
Carol Knight - as bright as day.
Rachel Lacey - quick to cotton on to a good thing.
Susan Phillips - a good make of tape recorder.
Audrey Sutton - Burrows down to her work.
Annette Walker - a right knit, but nice with it.
Anne Weaver - looms up out of the corridor.

YOUR FREINDLY PRISONS RULES

- (1) Clothes must be worn at all times despite the Sixth form area being declared a nudist camp.
- (2) All clothing should be marked with owners name and cell number (in blood).
- (3) Hair must not exceed 3 feet in length (0.91440m) below or above the head. Regulation colours are black, brown, gold green or red.
- (4) Sideburns should be natural colour and not exceed 6 feet (1.82880m) in length.
- (5) Any damage to prison property must be reported to Big Al or Sir Fumalot immediately. Treble charges will be made in respect of vital equipment, such as candles etc.
- (6) Any person found in charge of drink will be immediately bannished to Big Al's cellar.
- (7) During powercuts inmates ,except those in the 6th year, must not prop up radiators.
- (8) The following parts of the school are out of bounds :-
 - (a) The toilets.
 - (b) Big Al's bier cellar.
 - (c) The playground.
 - (d) Rooms 1 and 7.
- (9) Inmates leave the grounds under sentence of death during the dinner break.
- (10) Attendance notes should be addressed to the headmaster and marked TRUE or FALSE, accordingly.
- (11) Inmates sentenced to Saturday detention must report whether in wheelchair, stretcher coffin etc.

 - (a) Bow down and clear a path through the litter.
 - (b) Explain you had nothing to do with it, or
 - (c) Ask for clemency.
- (13) Cells must be vacated by 1236 & 1601 hrs.GST* (1336 & 1701 hrs.GST* in the summer), except for those inmates in the 6th year.

RIP (Really important people)

Alex is the leader of the prefects
Pauline is the leader of the band,
Chris and Andy short out all the defects,
Jo and Janet always lend a hand.

The late book record surely goes to Gayla,
When she rushed out 42 bit the dust,
Excuses this year really are original,
"My pedals wouldn't pedal 'cos of rust!"

Dinner duty had to be abolished,
The dangers were too great as people rushed,
Sixteen prefects were totally demolished,
Standing there they couldn't help being crushed!

Radiators really are quite comfy,
Prefects test them often everyday,
Corrigated posteriors are in fashion,
To get one there is simply no other way.

Smoking in the toilets is something,
That an honest prefect really can't endure,
Even when there's several of you in there,
Please open up when he knocks on the door.

Please realise prefect duties aren't all pleasure,
Though the power sometimes does go to their heads,
Standing on the corridor takes up leisure,
They'd much rather be at home in their beds!

U.S. SPACE PROGRAMME

Washington

Our space correspondent asked Dr. Whooshbang, the imported Hong Kong scientist about the Apollo effort :

"Oh yeah de one wid de hole ?" - he replied. Discouraged he approached Mr. Nixon who left his favourite university campus to say "Aw shucks it's only 'cos I like the Vroom vroom when it starts".

Sir Enoch said it could be useful in the export of blacks. As it was he added, it wasn't doing bad in starving the Paki's and so on. Mao Tse Tung said he didn't know about the Yanks man, or the wogs. However he had stopped the chinks from starving and was now making rocket missiles with a view to helping the Irish solve their problem.

ALEX (The Fastest Head Boy In The West)

You can hear the hoof beats pound, as they race through the playground,
And the clatter of the pins as they knit round and round,
He galloped into the admin. block, a prefects badge upon his chest,
His name was Alex, and he drove the fastest Moggy in the west.

Now Alex had an ally, a lady known as Frayne,
Who lived all alone in the admin. block, behind those glassy panes,
They said she was too quiet for him, she was always fairly meek,
But Alex got his tickets there, five times every week.

They called him Alex and he drove the fastest Moggy in the west.

IS IT TRUE THAT?

- Stuart House is run by a geography consortium?
- Mr. Gray runs a motorcycle assembly line for Jan Dowgun?
- Miss Scorer is being hired by Lords?
- Mr. Spencer recently broke his D string ? (It makes a change from his G string).

THE TEACHERS LOT or HOW TO SUCEED IN TEACHING WITHOUT REALLY TRYING

- (1) Never arrive at a class on time. If you do you will find nobody there and this may result in a feeling of rejection - leading to acute depression and eventual suicide (and there is still a teacher shortage)
- (2) Never mark books. Enough criticism is levelled at teachers without you adding to it by being accused of having nothing better to do with your time.
- (3) Never teach a class. This interrupts the learning processes of the students and detracts the card players.
- (4) Never smile at students of either sex - they may think you have desires of them (The opposite does not apply.)
- (5) Never give students poor reports. This reflects on your teaching. Apart from which, two years after they leave, the students will be earning twice as much as you are and you may need to tap them for a beer sob towards the end of the month.
- (6) Never give a grade above a C. If you do, you will give the student an exaggerated idea of his own importance.
- (7) Never give a grade below C. If you do you will depress the student.
- (8) Never walk about without a brief-case or a piece of paper in your hand otherwise people will think you are skiving. With a piece of paper or a brief-case in hand you can skive all day without people suspecting.
- (9) Never stay for school dinner. The students see enough of you during lessons without having to be put off their food.
- (10) Never arrive at school before 8.45 a.m. otherwise the students will think you are having nightmares about them - and always hold the door open for the headmaster (people may think you're a creep but at least someone might speak to you during the day).
- (11) Never attend school for a full term. If you remain healthy for that long then you can't be doing your job properly.
- (12) Never turn up for parents evenings - arrange to see them in the pub afterwards where you can buy/drink your way out of difficult situations.
- (13) Never say 'never' - keep your options open !

THE UPPER SIXTH'S OUTING

On a CLARE day, when the BIRDS were WITTERING gaily in the TERESA, the upper sixth PAULED into a Mini COOPER and a Black MARIA, except DOWGUN who went on his NORTON (sorry Jan!). They went to RATCLIFFE on sea via HATFIELD COMPTON where CYSTER fished with ANNETTE. After catching a STRINGER kipper PHILLIPS, JANET looked at the CLARKE and suggested going for a drink. 'OKAYE', said MARRIOTT and they WALKERED along to the nearest inn where they drank champagne PERRY, BOOTH'S gin and GLYNNES (though they ORTON't to they actually do it DALEY). SMITH AUDREYED glass after glass. BAGGUELEY got quite HARRISED and started MORRIS dancing while DOWNING his drinks and ended up in a HEGGINBOTHAM or was it a BROOK ? 'HAZZLEDINE on to the beach' he cried CROSBY. "You certainly packed the BRYCE pudding and FRUGTNIET", though ELLIS had a BOB's worth of chips. DENNY WEAVERED har way past the WHITEHOUSE on the way to the sands. The rest followed though they HADDON't had enough. They WALLISED around for a while and then sunbathed. EILEEN said "You LACEY lot! " and went for a swim to find Davy JONES's locker. Suddenly it started PAULINE down with rain. They GAVAGENED thier clothes from where they had DRAPERED them."LORD what a ~~day~~ DAVIS has been!" exclaimed GAYLA as they ran across many a ~~hard~~ HARDACRE to shelter in a BARNARD. KNIGHT fell and the storm ABATED. "BUCKBY up, we BILBY going home soon", said STEVE. An EXLEYENT time was had by all.

THAT MAN (or the things he says) -Genuine quotes from R.Askew.

- 18.11.71. '...if you get fingering grease on your glass then it tends to cut down your capillarity'.
 29.11.71. 'I'd like to go on'.
 30.11.71 'Who on earth borrowed my adaptor ?"
 7.12.71 'I haven't seen one since I left University'.
 16.12.71 'Are you having any joy ?"
 17.12.71 'I'll go and see MR. Mortimer and see if we can make it up for next week".

PREFECTS

Leap over tall buildings with a single bound,
Is faster than a speeding bullet,
Can fly higher than a mighty rocket,
More powerful than a locomotive,
Gives policy guidance to God.

6th FORM

Must take a running start to leap over tall buildings,
Is just as fast as a speeding bullet,
When flying cannot penetrate the atmosphere,
Is as powerful as a locomotive,
Talks with God.

5W/X/Y

Crashes into buildings while trying to leap over them,
Can shoot bullets,
Has trouble flying,
Gets run over by locomotives,
Listens to God.

PLEBIANS

Shimbles over buildings while trying to enter,
Wounds himself while trying to shoot bullets,
Can barely walk,
Cannot spell locomotive,
Talks with walls.

SKINHEADS (especially 3rd and 4th years)

Cannot recognise buildings,
Gets all wet playing with a water pistol,
Still crawling,
"Choo choo, daddy, choo, choo".
Too busy sucking his dummy.

AND NOW IT'S STORY TIME - WITH UNCLE RON

This week the story of Charlie Uumberston, the part-time fireman.

- - - - -

Once upon a time in the beautiful resort of Bognor on Trent lived an old part-time fireman called Charlie Uumberston. Charlie was a nice old man and always stopped to lend a helping hand.

One day as Charlie was just cooking dinner for the band of the Irish Guards and cutting his toenails at the same time, the popular chip shop had just begun to sell their gorgeous fish and chips. The day was very hot and Mrs. Batter the fish and chip shop lady was very, very warm as she sold her wares.

Suddenly as the clock struck 64 the chip shop burst into flames. "Help", cried Mrs. Batter, "My chips are being fried alive, ah! HELP". Luckily nearby was a clever fellow who ran the 7215 miles to the nearest phone box and phoned the nearest fire station.

The fire station just happened to be round the corner from the chip shop, and the fire engine arrived within a few days.

By the time the fire engine arrived Mr. Batter had put the fire out with his wife, but without flinching the firemen turned their hoses on and filled the chip shop with water. "Help!", cried Mrs. Batter, "Me chips is going all soggy"

The hero of the story now enters. He is a part-time fireman, and having heard the siren he had thrown his toenails into the fire and dashed to the scene.

He arrived just as the water reached the first floor windows. As soon as the other firemen saw Charlie they dropped their hoses and threw up their hands.

"Charlie", they yelled in chorus, "You've forgotten to put your trousers on". Charlie dashed home and donned his bright orange velvet loon pants and dashed back.

As he arrived the water began to leak out of the chimney of the popular chip shop. When the firemen saw that they had achieved their aim they turned off their water, stowed their hoses, and drove away leaving our hero, Charlie Uumberston with a mop and bucket to clear up.

Before they left it was reported that the fire chief foreman fellow yelled, "Alright lads, Charlie's here now we can all go home". The last reports confirm that Charlie is still there with his mop and bucket.

ODE TO ALFRED

Alfred we've got used to you,
Your mouth is open wide,
Your legs flail round, your face is blue,
I'm glad i'm on your side.

Playing football round the back Alf,
You land in such a hole,
Everyone shouts 'Have a crack Alf',
So you slice it in ...own goal!

Alfred Newman's no George Best,
He's probably the worst,
Fool to set foot on a pitch,
Since a gentleman named Hurst.

Anyone getting in your way,
Is likely to lose blood,
You lay down the law like Dennis,
But Alf you're not that good.

Alfred we don't mind you much,
But you really are a jerk,
And when your boot lands in a crutch,
We wish you were at work.

IS IT TRUE

Yes - Darley-USmar does blow his own trumpet.

Jane Elizabeth Woolley has awkward initials.

Gardner does not have green fingers.

Morley is the 1% even Domestos couldn't get.

Draper does not wear a cloth cap.

Johnson waxes and wanes.

Why are 3rd formers so small ? Anything to do with smoking stinting their growth.

Wilson - plugs that gap.

- - - - -

Among the books studied for A level is 1938 by George Orwell.

The year is half past three and the school is ruled by Big Brother Al and his suppressive henchmen. Our two hero's, Darley Usmar No.00325 $\frac{1}{2}$ and Janet Wilson No.38,24,38., have a secret liason in the Do it yourself section of the library.

D.USMAR : "Oh Janet 38 24 38, how did you get here unseen by the Prefect's ?"

J.WILSON : "I used the special password - toilet, and kissed party member Jones's feet twice as it was Tuesday".

D.USMAR : "Our making love in the DIY section is a political act, a blow against society".

J.WILSON : "Oh what a pity, I still wear my anti-sex league clothes; - red socks black overcoat, and a red pocket handkerchief."

D.USMAR : "Watch out there's a prefect coming!"

HADDON : "Right you two, i'm arresting you".

D.USMAR : "What will you do ?"

HADDON : "There are three stages in your punishment, torture, torture, and more torture!"

D.USMAR : "Oh lovely I do like the bull-whip!"

HADDON : "First of all I will take J.Wilson 38 24 38, for closer inspection".

J.WILSON : "A fate worse than death".

D.Usmar flogged himself for three days and loved it, Haddon inspected J.Wilson 38 24 38 for three nights and loved it.

Our apologies to George Orwell.
